

PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY PROFILE

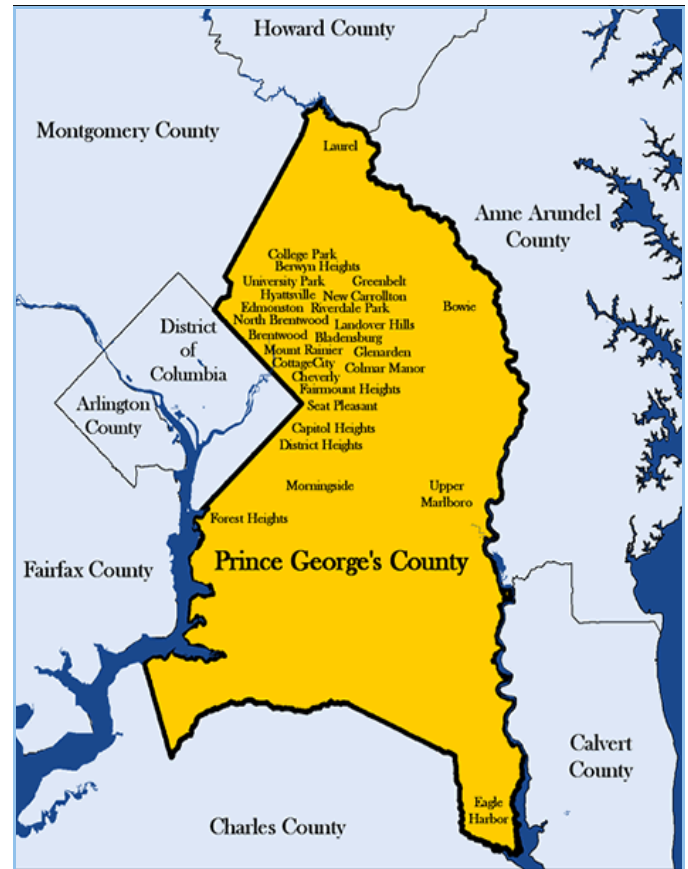

GOVERNMENT

The Maryland General Assembly officially chartered Prince George's County on April 23, 1696. It was named in honor of Prince George of Denmark, husband of Princess Anne, the heir to the British throne. From those colonial beginnings, Prince George's County has grown to become the second largest jurisdiction in the State of Maryland (and the third largest in the metropolitan Washington area). Its population is greater than that of six states. Under a home rule charter since 1970, Prince George's County is governed by an elected County Executive and a nine-member County Council elected by Councilmanic District.

The County encompasses 483 square miles that border the District of Columbia, Montgomery, Howard, Anne Arundel, Calvert, Charles and Fairfax counties and is 37 miles south of the City of Baltimore. It is a unique mixture of urban, rural and suburban communities. The County's centralized location and its rich diversity have attracted an estimated 912,700 residents and over 14,000 businesses to its 27 municipalities and unincorporated areas.

Prince George's County has significant federal facilities, such as the Joint Base Andrews Naval Air Facility Washington, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) Goddard Space Flight Center, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's (NOAA) National Centers for Environmental Prediction, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Beltsville Agricultural Research Center, the world's largest and most diversified agricultural research complex. Academic facilities include the University of Maryland, College Park, the flagship public university in Maryland, and other major public, private, two- and four-year institutions.
